COACH
LARRY LITTLE

Coach Larry Little is in his fifth year as the Centenary boss. In his four years at Centenary, Coach Little has forged a 78-28 winning record, which is among the best in the nation over the same period of time. Coach Little's success rests on his ability to get the best team effort out of his talented players. The Gold Dome will be the scene of many exciting encounters this season as the Gent's strive for a national ranking.

COACH
RILEY WALLACE

Former Centenary cage star and team captain Riley has been a coach at Centenary since 1967. Coach Wallace keeps busy with his jobs as junior varsity coach and chief recruiter. His recruiting has been vital in the turn around in Centenary basketball from the dismal days of losing twenty games a year. The perennially exciting junior varsity teams have been the proving grounds for future stars and this year should be no exception.

ROBERT PARISH

Center — Senior — 7-1, 235 — Shreveport, Louisiana
Mr. Parish's collection of honors, newspaper clippings and school records are really starting to clutter his room. He moves into his final year as a Gent after spending twelve most memorable months as the premier basketball player in the nation. With the Gents, Bob had his finest all-round year, ranking second in the nation in rebounding (15.4 per outing), blocking three or four games' worth of shots, and scoring 548 points on a well-balanced offensive team. But it didn't stop there. The summer was spent as a member of the World Cup Team, and the fall saw him elected captain of the gold-medal-winning Pan American Team. "Slim" has developed quite as expected: he is an intimidating defensive player, offensively he is dangerous far beyond his ability to lay the ball up or tip it in, and he provides plenty of inspiration on the floor. He was born on August 30, 1953, to Mr. and Mrs. Robert Parish, Sr. In the spring, he will receive his degree in physical education.

CAL SMITH

Forward — Senior — 6-8, 225 — Normal, Illinois
1974-1975 was a lost year for Smitty. After being a starter in all 25 games as a sophomore, he injured his knee in fall practice last year and missed over half the season. He returned in January, but was only able to see spot action. This year, Cal is fighting to reclaim his job on the starting team. Coach Larry Little would like to see the big guy return to form and pick up where he left off after averaging 6.2 points and 5.3 rebounds in '73-'74. In addition to his forward chores, Cal also gives Robert Parish a breather on occasion, and his rough-and-tumble style is sorely needed there. Cal is a psychology major and the son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Smith. He was born June 6, 1954.

Coach Larry Little is presented car keys to an Impala Station Wagon from Mr. James Fritze of Red River Chevrolet Co. The Gents Club acknowledges the generosity of Red River Chevrolet in furnishing the athletic department with this much needed transportation.

RICK MIGLIORE
Guard — Sophomore — 5-10, 170 — Midland, Pennsylvania
Rick transferred to Centenary from Roanoke College this season because the Gents play a brand of ball more suited to his talents. He is quick, can go on the fast break, and drop in an occasional bomb. Since he is a transfer, he is ineligible to play this year, but in the next few years to come, he will be counted on heavily.

WAYNE ABREU
Guard-Forward — Freshman — 6-2, 165 — Karamursel, Turkey
Wayne is a hustling swingman. He is one of three non-scholarship players vying for a spot on the JayVee squad. Wayne has displayed a nice perimeter shot in preseason drills, and he likes to move inside to fight for rebounds.

NATE BLAND

Guard — Senior — 6-2, 185 — Albany, New York
"Snake" may be the best pure shooter on the team. Last year, he was given the chance to do what he does well, and he did just that: as a starting wing-man, he canned 14.3 points per contest, including 26 against the tough Hawaii Rainbows. Nate has been good on 52% of his field goal tries during his Centenary career, specializing in long bombs and sneaks through the back door. You can expect more (and even better) of the same this year. A physical education major, Nate was born on September 6, 1953. His mother is Lola Bland.

Another of the Centenary walk-ons, Leroy boasts a strong offensive game. He is not afraid to put the ball up, and his quickness points to a potential to become a good driver. "Bo" prepped at Booker T. Washington in Shreveport.

PAUL PATTON

Guard - Freshman - 5-5, 140 - Shreveport, Louisiana
Paul is the third of Centenary's non-scholarship players. He is small, but he will more than earn his keep with his solid ballhandling, deft passing, and sharp outside shooting. Paul is a two-sport man in Naryland, playing second base for the baseball team.

BOBBY WHITE

Forward — Sophomore — 6-6, 210 — Springhill, Louisiana
Bobby was spectacular on the JayVee team last year, averaging nearly 31 points and 14 rebounds per game, and this year he will have great impact on the varsity squad. He is an excellent shooter and a very rugged inside player. Bobby may be one of the starting five for the Gents this year. He now knows the Centenary style, and he is becoming an aggressive defensive player. Watch for him.

WELTON BROOKSHIRE

Center — Senior — 6-9, 190 — Huntington, Texas

The long, tall Texan lives in a purgatory of sorts — he is the reserve center behind Robert Parish, who happens to be the best in the nation. He pushed hard last year, though, and managed himself well in the nine varsity games in which he saw action. This year should see him log more playing time. "Bo" is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Brookshire.

ROBBIE SENN

Guard — Sophomore — 5-11, 160 — Shreveport, Louisiana
Robbie was last year's big surprise. As a non-scholarship player, he won a starting berth on the JayVees and went on to average 13.2 points per game and lead the team with 65 assists. This year he was rewarded for his efforts with a scholarship, and he is now fighting for a spot on the varsity. Robbie is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Senn, born May 28, 1956.

The spidery forward proved to be more than capable as the Gents' sixth man last year, averaging 5.2 points and 4.9 rebounds. "Bad News" now looks forward to a starting assignment. His twisting inside layups and shot-blocking have made him one of 'Nary's most popular players. Al is the son of Mr. and Mrs. George Barnes, born August 15, 1954. He is a physical education major.

LEROY HOGGS

Guard — Sophomore — 6-0, 170 — Albany, New York
LeRoy is one of the quickest guards to ever drop his sneakers in a Gold Dome locker room. He spent last year learning the system as a member of the JayVees, bringing home 15.8 points per game and 4.6 assists. "Bug" is now more than ready to make some considerable contributions to the Big Team. Born September 7, 1955, to LeRoy Hogs, Sr., he is a physical education major.

WALTER LOUIS

Forward — Freshman — 6-7, 190 — Dallas, Texas
Walter is making a serious bid for a spot on the varsity roster in his freshman year. He has proven to be an able shooter, and he does a lot of the "little things" well — the effects of good coaching. Walt will be a man to contend with for the next four winters.

DICK BROWN

Guard — Freshman — 6-0, 180 — Edwardsville, Illinois
There is a strong possibility that the stocky sharpshooter from the St. Louis area will be thrust into the breach on the varsity team. With only three veteran guards and Coach Little's penchant for using bunches of guards to ensure a fresh fast break, Dick's considerable talents may well be used on the big team. In high school he sported a 26-point mean.

SAM ROBERTS

Forward — Sophomore — 6-4½, 170 — Oklahoma City, Ok.
Sam has become an all-around man at Centenary. In addition to playing basketball, he also runs on the cross-country team and is pursuing a degree in chemistry. As the sixth man on the JayVees last year, he was good for 3.1 points per game and a like number of rebounds. He returns this season physically stronger and more confident. Sam was born December 16, 1956, to Mr. and Mrs. Howard W. Roberts.

Parish

ROBERT PARISH

Much of what one reads about Robert Parish is pretty unbelievable, and those who have never seen him play are skeptical when they look over the press clippings and hear all the stories.

For over a year, a small band of Centenary boosters scattered across America have been maintaining that Rob is the best center in college basketball. They cite his improbable statistics, make case histories of some of the better-publicized games, and invite folks to see for themselves. But being hidden in the north Louisiana woods has not helped Rob at all, and less-than-diligent panels of experts have preferred such people as Alabama's Leon Douglas when making All-America picks. Parish is usually found on the second team or as an honorable mention.

In October Rob proved that the All-America pollsters didn't have half an idea what they were voting for by snubbing him. He was selected to the United States Pan American basketball team, along with the more publicized Douglas, Rick Robey of Kentucky, and Wayne "Tree" Rollins of Clemson. The issue was settled quite quickly. Rollins and Robey made themselves comfortable on the bench, and Douglas, everyone's first team All-American center, was switched to forward. Robert Parish started in the middle.

It went further than that, though. Parish was also elected captain of this elite team, and it won the gold medal in the Mexico City games, defeating Cuba 84-78 in the finals. Parish led the team in scoring with 19 points in that one.

The small band of Centenary boosters scattered across America, with this empirical proof bearing out their long-standing contentions, are now happily sitting back and saying "I told you something like that would happen." Professional basketball, which has tried to lure Parish from college since his freshman year, will make him the first pick in the next draft.

The pros have good reason to want Rob as much as they do. He plays the brand of basketball that turns basketball franchises around. He's intimidating. He scores almost at will; he is a ferocious rebounder, if the opposition can get a shot off on him — Rob plays sticky defense, and he is not adverse to ramming a shot back in the foes' countenance. He has speed, and he can handle the ball: he is often seen leading the fast break, dribbling the full length of the court and laying the ball in. Nothing but awesome.

In his three years as a Gent, Robert Parish has turned Centenary around from a run-of-the-average basketball school into a national power. An inspiring leader and a brilliant player, his influence will be felt long after he leaves.

Guard — Senior — 6-1, 180 — Albany, New York
With 290 assists in his two years on the varsity, Barry needs only 97 more to break Melvin Russell's school record for handouts. He had 168 last year, including 14 against Hawaii. In his spare time as the quarterback of the Gents, he also finds occasion to drill home about 10 points a game. He was also one of the Gents' team captains last year, and will be counted on to provide more fire and inspiration this season. Barry is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward McLeod, first seeing light on March 30, 1954. He is a physical education major.

JOHN PITTS

Forward — Junior — 6-7, 215 — Hempstead, New York
Big John had an up-and-down season in his first year on the varsity. As a reserve forward, he bulled his way through to contribute 3.8 points and 3.5 caroms per game, but he was often hampered by foul trouble. But he is capable of playing a physical inside game with the best of them, and he is definitely in the thick of the four-man race for the starting forward slots this year. John is a physical education major, and the son of John and Elizabeth Pitts. He was born on November 12, 1955.
